

CHAPTER E

POST MANDATED DOMESTIC ABUSE

500.01 DOMESTIC ABUSE POLICY

I. POLICY

It is the policy of the Belgrade/Brooten Police Department to recognize domestic abuse as a serious problem today. This agency's policy is to protect victims of domestic abuse by making an arrest whenever it is authorized and by ensuring its peace officers understand the laws governing this area.

Peace officers will utilize this policy in response to calls when there may be domestic abuse. This policy prescribes courses of action peace officers should take in response to a domestic call. This agency will aggressively enforce the laws without bias and prejudice based on race, marital status, sexual orientation, economic status, age, disability, gender, religion, creed, or national origin.

II. DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this policy, the words and phrases in this section have the meanings given to them, unless another intention clearly appears.

A. Domestic Abuse

Has the meaning given it in MN STAT 518B.01, subd. 2(a), which states: "Domestic abuse" means the following, if committed against a family or household member by a family or household member:

- (1) physical harm, bodily injury, or assault;
- (2) the infliction of fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, or assault; or
- (3) terroristic threats, within the meaning of section 609.713, subdivision 1; criminal sexual conduct, within the meaning of section 609.342, 609.343, 609.344, 609.345, or 609.3451; or interference with an emergency call within the meaning of section 609.78, subdivision 2.

B. Domestic Abuse Program

A public or private intervention project or advocacy program which provides support and assistance to the victims of domestic abuse.

C. Child

A person under the age of 18.

D. Family or Household Member

Spouses, former spouses, parents and children, persons related by blood, and persons who are presently residing together or who have resided together in the past, persons who have a child in common regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time, and persons involved in a significant romantic or sexual relationship. It also includes a man and a woman if the woman is pregnant and the man is alleged to be the father, regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time.

E. Domestic Call

A request for assistance to a law enforcement agency regarding domestic abuse or any other crime against a family of household member.

F. Qualified domestic violence-related offense (QDVRO) has the meaning given it in Minn. Stat. 609.02, subd. 16 and includes a violation of or an attempt to violate a domestic abuse order for protection; first or second degree murder; first through fifth degree assault; domestic assault; female genital mutilation; domestic assault by strangulation; first through fourth degree criminal sexual conduct; malicious punishment of a child; terroristic threats; violation of harassment restraining order; stalking; interference with an emergency call; nonconsensual dissemination of private sexual images; and violation of domestic abuse no contact order; and similar laws of other states, the United States, the District of Columbia, tribal lands, and United States territories.

If a person arrested for a domestic crime has a prior QDVRO, the new offense may be chargeable as a higher-level crime.

G. Order for Protection

A court order that protects a victim from domestic abuse. Any family or household member may ask the court for an order for protection. A protection order may include: stop domestic abuse, no direct or indirect contact with petitioner, no stalking, evicting the respondent, housing for the petitioner when the respondent is the sole owner or lessee, temporary custody of minor children, financial support, and counseling.

H. Restraining Order

A temporary court order to preserve current conditions as they are until a hearing is held at which both parties are present. A restraining order may be issued in a divorce matter to prevent taking a child out of the country or to prohibit one of the parties from selling marital property. Also, a person who is a victim of harassment may seek a restraining order.

I. No Contact Order or Harassment/Stalking Restraining Order

An order issued when a petitioner requests a court order preventing another person from having contact with them or when a criminal charge has been filed with the court for the protection of someone. These orders generally prohibit all contact of any kind (including, but not limited to, phone calls, letters, e-mail and contact through a third party) and may limit the respondent's ability to come within a certain distance of someone's home, work or school. A no contact order can be issued by the court even if the people involved want to have contact and object to the order. This type of order can be issued no matter what the relationship between the individuals involved. Violating these orders is a crime.

J. Harassing

Means to engage in intentional conduct which the actor knows or has reason to know would cause the victim under the circumstances to feel frightened, threatened, oppressed, persecuted or intimidated AND causes this reaction on the part of the victim.

K. Stalking

A crime of harassment. Generally a person commits the offense of stalking if he or she makes a credible threat to another person and, in connection with the threat, repeatedly follows that person or repeatedly communicates or attempts to communicate with that person or a member of that person's immediate family, whether or not a conversation occurs.

III.

PROCEDURE

A. Dispatching the Calls

a. Receiving the Domestic Call

Upon receiving a domestic call the dispatcher should assign the call a high priority. The officer should request a second unit be assigned to the call as well, if one has not already been assigned. If only one officer is available, all reasonable attempts should be made to obtain another officer to assist the officer who was initially dispatched.

b. Information to be Obtained

The dispatcher receiving a domestic call should attempt to elicit from the caller and should communicate to the responding peace officers as much of the following information as possible:

1. the nature of the incident,
2. the address of the incident, including apartment number, if applicable,
3. the telephone numbers where the caller can be reached,
4. whether weapons are involved or present in the dwelling,
5. whether someone is injured and the nature of the injury,
6. information about the suspect including whether the suspect is present, description, direction of flight, mode of travel, etc.,
7. the relationship between the caller and the suspect,
8. whether there has been prior calls involving these individuals,
9. whether there is an order for protection, harassment restraining order (HRO) or criminal pre-trial or probationary no contact order (NCO)¹,
10. whether children are present at the scene, and
11. whether there are non-English speaking people, or people with mobility impairments or hearing impairments at the scene.

If the caller is the victim, the dispatcher should attempt to keep the caller on the telephone as long as possible and should tell the caller that help is on the way, and when the caller can expect the peace officers to arrive.

If the caller is a witness to an incident in progress, the dispatcher should attempt to keep the caller on the phone and should relay ongoing information provided by the caller to the responding peace officers.

If the responding peace officers are some distance away, and the dispatcher cannot remain on the telephone with the call/victim, the dispatcher should attempt to call back periodically to check on the progress of events, and call again when the officers arrive at the scene. If the dispatcher finds that a victim/caller who was recently available suddenly cannot be reached by phone or there is a persistent busy signal, the dispatcher should relay that information to the officers.

¹ When a pre-trial no contact order is issued in connection with a pending domestic abuse prosecution or when a probationary no contact order is issued as a condition of probation after conviction for a domestic abuse offense, these orders are now designated as a Domestic Abuse No Contact Orders. Violation of such an order is a misdemeanor according to MN STAT 518B.01, subd. 22.

B. Responding to the calls

a. Driving to the Scene

The officers will respond directly and without unreasonable delay to the scene.

b. Initial Contact with Occupants

Upon arriving at the scene of a domestic call, the responding officers should identify themselves as peace officers; explain their presence, and request entry into the home. The officers should ask to see the person who is the alleged victim. If the person who called the law enforcement agency is someone other than the subject of the call, the officer should not reveal the caller's name. The officer should ensure all of the occupants are safe.

c. Entry

1. Refused Entry – If refused entry, the officers should be persistent about seeing and speaking alone with the subject of the call. If access to the subject is refused the officers should request the dispatcher to contact the caller.
2. Forced Entry – If access is still refused and the officers have reason to believe that someone is in imminent danger the officers are permitted to force entry.
3. Search Warrant Entry – If the officers are refused entry and have no legal grounds for forced entry and have reasonable grounds to believe a crime has been committed, the officers should contact the appropriate authority to obtain a search warrant.

d. First Aid

After securing the scene, the responding peace officers shall provide the necessary first aid.

C. Arrest Decisions

a. Making Arrests

After securing the scene and providing any first aid, the peace officers will conduct an assessment of the lethality of the situation based on the totality of the circumstances and begin a criminal investigation to determine if there is probable cause to believe a crime has been committed based on the evidence and not solely upon the victim's desire to make an arrest. The officers should collect relevant physical evidence including weapons which may have been used, take photographs of the scene or any injuries and take statements from the involved parties and witnesses. Some of the evidence and statements include:

1. condition of clothing,
2. property damage,
3. evidence of physical injury including strangulation,
4. excited utterances of the victim and the suspect,
5. demeanor of the victim and the suspect,
6. medical records including the victim's statements to paramedics, nurses and doctors,
7. interviews of witnesses including children who may have been present,
8. evidence of any prior domestic abuse – related convictions including dates, and
9. any existing orders for protection, harassment restraining order or no contact orders.

NOTE: When determining probable cause, the peace officers should consider their observations and any statements made by the parties involved and any witnesses. Prior convictions may provide the basis for enhancement to a gross misdemeanor or even felony charges (see D below).

b. Factors Not to be Considered in Making the Arrest

1. ownership, tenancy rights of either party, or the fact the incident occurred in a private place,
2. belief that the victim will not cooperate with criminal prosecution or that the arrest may not lead to a conviction,
3. verbal assurances that the abuse will stop,
4. disposition of previous police calls involving the same victim or suspect,
5. denial by either party that the abuse occurred when there is evidence of domestic abuse,
6. lack of a court order restraining or restricting the suspect,
7. concern about reprisals against the victim,
8. adverse financial consequences that might result from the arrest, or
9. chemical dependency or intoxication of the parties.

c. Primary Aggressor and Dual Arrests

The Belgrade/Brooten Police Department discourages dual arrest². Where there are allegations that each party assaulted the other, the peace officer shall determine whether there is sufficient evidence to conclude that one of the parties is the primary aggressor based on the following criteria and the officer's judgment:

1. comparative extent of any injuries inflicted,
2. fear of physical injury because of past or present threats,
3. actions taken in self-defense or to protect oneself,
4. the history of domestic abuse perpetrated by one party against the other, or
5. the existence or previous existence of an order for protection.

d. Victim Request not to Prosecute

If the officer finds probable cause to believe a domestic abuse offense has been committed and intends to arrest but the victim requests no arrest or prosecution, the officer should inform the victim that the decision to arrest is the officer's and the decision to prosecute lies with the prosecutor.

D. Authority and Types of Arrest

a. Warrantless Probable Cause Arrest for Fifth Degree Assault or Domestic Assault

Although the general rule is that officers may not make probable cause arrests for misdemeanors unless the offense occurs in their presence (or a citizen who saw the crime requests an arrest) domestic assault is an exception. A peace officer may arrest a person anywhere without a warrant, including at the person's residence, if the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person has, within the preceding 72 hours, assaulted, threatened with a dangerous weapon, or placed in fear of immediate bodily harm any person covered by the "family or household member" definition (See II.D), even if the assault did not take place in the presence of the peace officer (MN STAT 629.341). A peace officer acting in good faith and exercising due care in making an arrest pursuant to this statute is immune from civil liability that might result from the officer's action.

² MN STAT 629.342 which mandates the development of a written domestic abuse arrest policy for every law enforcement agency in the state specifies that the policy "shall discourage dual arrests, include consideration of whether one of the parties acted in self defense, and provide guidance to officers concerning instances in which officers should remain at the scene of a domestic abuse incident until the likelihood of further imminent violence has been eliminated."

NOTE: An arresting officer may not issue a citation in lieu of arrest and detention to an individual charged with assaulting the individual's spouse or other individual with whom the charged person resides (MN STAT 629.72).

b. Level of Arrest for Assault 5 and Domestic Assault: Misdemeanor, Gross Misdemeanor and Felony Assault in the Fifth Degree and Domestic Assault are deemed misdemeanor offenses. However, recent changes in the statutes have greatly increased the potential for arrests for these crimes at the gross misdemeanor and even felony level.

1. Gross Misdemeanors

MN STAT 609.224, subd. 2(a), Assault in the Fifth Degree, provides for an enhancement to a gross misdemeanor violation when the offense is against the same victim within five years of discharge from sentence for a previous conviction for assault, criminal sexual conduct in the first through fourth degree, or terroristic threats in Minnesota, or any similar law of another state.

If the charge is Domestic Assault (MN STAT 609.2242) and the current victim is a family or household member and the crime occurs within 5 years of discharge from sentence for conviction of any of the above offenses against any family or household member, the same gross misdemeanor enhancement applies. The prior conviction need not be against a member of the same family or household.

If there is a prior conviction for assault or terroristic threats against any person within two years, a gross misdemeanor may also be charged.

2. Felonies

As of August 1, 1993, if a person commits Assault in the 5th Degree within 5 years of discharge from sentence for the first of two or more convictions of assault, criminal sexual conduct in the first through fourth degree or terroristic threats against the same victim, Assault 5 becomes a felony. The same enhancement applies to Assault 5 against any victim occurring within two years of the first of two or more of these convictions.

Domestic Assault (against a family or household member) is also enhance able under the same circumstances except that the prior convictions may be against any family or household member.

The new language "within five years of discharge from sentence", in effect extends the reach back for previous convictions to 7 ½ years.

Example: Defendant arrested for Assault 5 on 1/1/98, sentenced on 6/1/98 and placed on two years probation. This offense remains good for enhancement purposes until 6/1/2005.

c. Harassment/Stalking

(MN STAT 609.749): Effective July 1, 1993, Minnesota enacted a stalking statute which created new crimes at both the felony and gross misdemeanor levels. The statute also supersedes and repeals certain previous misdemeanor offenses. The acts covered by MN STAT 609.749 include several which are frequently applicable to domestic abuse situations even when no actual assault occurred.

The 1997 Legislature amended the stalking statute to clarify language the Minnesota Supreme Court found ambiguous in the 1993 law while still maintaining the basic structure of the 1993 law.

1. Gross Misdemeanors

Current law (effective 5/7/97) makes it a gross mis-demeanor to harass another person by committing any of the following acts. A person who:

- i. directly or indirectly manifests a purpose or intent to injure the person, property, or rights of another by the commission of an unlawful act;
- ii. stalks, follows or pursues another;
- iii. returns to the property of another if the actor is without claim of right to the property or consent of one with authority to consent;
- iv. repeatedly makes telephone calls, or induces a victim to make telephone calls to the actor, whether or not conversation ensues;
- v. makes or causes the telephone of another to repeatedly or continuously ring;
- vi. repeatedly mails or delivers or causes the delivery of letters, telegrams, messages, packages, or other objects; or
- vii. engages in any other harassing conduct that interferes with another person or intrudes on the person's privacy or liberty.

MN STAT 609.749, subd. 1 (as amended by the 1997 Legislature) defines "harass" as meaning "to engage in intentional conduct which (1) the actor knows or has reason to know would cause the victim under the circumstances to feel frightened, threatened, oppressed, persecuted or intimidated; and (2) causes this reaction on the part of the victim.

The 1997 Legislature also specifically declared that in stalking/harassment prosecutions the State does not have to prove the actor intended to cause the victim to feel frightened, threatened, oppressed, persecuted or intimidated (MN STAT 609.749, subd.1a.). The intent of the defendant is immaterial. Obtaining a complete domestic abuse history is usually the key to making the determination that the current act, under the circumstances, constitutes the crime of harassment.

2. Felony Enhancement

Any of the above gross misdemeanors is enhanceable to a felony if committed within 10 years of discharge from sentence for a prior conviction for harassment, assault (any degree), violation of an OFP or harassment order or terroristic threats OR if committed against a juvenile OR if committed while possessing a dangerous weapon.

3. Pattern of Harassing Conduct

In addition, it is a felony to engage "in a pattern of harassing conduct with respect to a single victim or one or more members of a single household which the actor knows or has reason to know would cause a reasonable person under the circumstances to feel terrorized or to fear bodily harm and which does cause this reaction" in the victim. According to MN STAT 609.749, subd. 5 (as amended by the 1997 Legislature) a "pattern of harassing conduct" means 2 or more acts (convictions are not necessary) within a 5 year period that constitute any of the following offenses: harassment, terroristic threats, assault, violation of an order for protection or harassment order, trespass, harassing phone calls, or mail, or criminal defamation.

NOTE: The harassment statute makes it more important than ever to document not just the facts of the current police call but also the history of abuse or harassment.

d. Probable Cause Warrantless Arrest

The domestic abuse arrest statute (MN STAT 629.72) has been amended to provide that the officer may not issue a citation in lieu of arrest in harassment/stalking cases. According to MN STAT 629.34, subd.1(c)(5) an officer may also make a warrantless probable cause arrest for harassment even if the offense did not occur in the officer's presence.

e. Probable Cause Felony Arrests for Other Crimes:

At a domestic call peace officers shall consider whether other felonies have been committed including but not limited to, burglary, felony assault, terroristic threats, kidnapping, false imprisonment, and witness tampering.

NOTE: An Assault 5 may be chargeable as burglary in the first degree even if the home is also the offender's if the entry is made without consent of the victim and in violation of an OFP barring the offender from the premises.

f. Violation of Court Orders

The peace officer shall verify whether any of the following orders exist before or during an arrest. The peace officer or someone acting at the officer's direction may make this verification. Methods of verification include personally seeing a copy of the order or obtaining verification from the court or law enforcement agency that has the actual order. The police report shall include identifying information of the specific court order violated, including county of origin, the file number, and the provision allegedly violated.

1. Order for Protection

A peace officer shall arrest and take into custody without a warrant a person who the peace officer has probable cause to believe has violated the restraint or exclusion section of an order for protection granted pursuant to MN STAT 518B.01, subs. 6, 7, and 9. Such an arrest shall be made even if the violation of the order did not take place in the presence of the peace officer, if the officer can verify the existence of the order.

NOTE: There are three key points related to the Order for Protection: (1) the law requires an arrest regardless of whether or not the excluded party was invited back to the residence, (2) there is no hour limitation for a warrantless arrest for a violation of an Order for Protection, and (3) if there is evidence that an individual has violated another provision of an Order for Protection, other than the restraint or exclusion clauses, a police report should be submitted to the prosecutor indicating specifically how the order was violated.

A violation of an Order for Protection is a misdemeanor but is enhanceable to a gross misdemeanor if the offense occurs within 5 years of discharge from sentence for conviction of violation of an OFP or (effective for crimes occurring on and after 8/1/94) for any conviction of assault, terroristic threats, violation of a harassment order or harassment/stalking. As of 8/1/97, it is enhanceable as a felony if it occurs within 5 years of discharge of the first of two or more such convictions.

As of January 5, 1998, a statewide law enforcement computer verification system for domestic abuse orders for protection will be on line including the phone number of the controlling agency (the law enforcement agency with a copy of the actual OFP). The system will also make it possible to identify respondents against whom an OFP has been issued but not served.

2. Harassment Restraining Order

A peace officer shall arrest and take into custody a person who the peace officer has probable cause to believe has violated a harassment restraining order pursuant to MN STAT 609.748, subds. 4 and 5, if the officer can verify the existence of the order.

NOTE: A person who violates a harassment restraining order is guilty of a misdemeanor if the violator knows of the order. This offense is enhanceable of a gross misdemeanor if it occurs within 5 years of discharge from sentence for a previous conviction for violation of a harassment order or an OFP or any assault, harassment/stalking or terroristic threats conviction. As of 8/1/97, it is enhanceable to a felony if it occurs within 5 years of discharge of the first of 2 or more such convictions.

3. No Contact Order

As of August 1, 1993, an officer may arrest without a warrant any person who s/he has probable cause to believe has violated the provisions of a no contact or restraining order issued by a court. MN STAT 629.34, subd. 1(6).

In many jurisdictions, pretrial no contact orders are routinely issued in crimes against persons cases, including domestics, and are valid until final disposition of the case (sentencing or dismissal).

The pretrial order is frequently replaced at the time of sentencing with a new no contact order issued as a condition of probation. This no contact order may be valid for the full probationary period indicated in the order.

The court may rescind a no contact order at any time. However, the production of the victim of a copy of an apparently valid court order, absent contrary evidence, provides prima facie basis for arrest whenever there is probable cause to believe a violation of the order has occurred.

g. Other Misdemeanors

At a domestic call, the peace officer shall consider whether other crimes have been committed including but not limited to trespassing, criminal damage to property, disorderly conduct, witness tampering, or assault.

E. Assistance, Staying at the Scene, Crime Victim Rights, and Services

- a. Staying at the Scene: If no arrest is made peace officers should remain at the scene of the disturbance until they believe that the likelihood of further imminent abuse has been eliminated. If a domestic abuse intervention program is available the peace officer should make contact for immediate intervention.

NOTE: MN STAT 629.342 provides that when a peace officer does not make an arrest, the peace officer must provide immediate assistance to the victim including obtaining necessary medical treatment and providing the victim with the notice of rights pursuant to MN STAT 629.341, subd. 3.

- b. Assistance to Non-English Speaking Victims or Victims with Communication Disabilities: The peace officer shall use the resource list established by the law enforcement agency to contact a person to assist in those cases where the participants in the domestic call, including the witnesses, are non-English speaking, are hearing-impaired, or have other communication disabilities. The officer should avoid the use of friends, family or neighbors serving as the primary interpreter for the investigation.
- c. Notice of Crime Victims Rights: The peace officer shall give the victim of a domestic call a copy of the agency's crime victim notification form.

NOTE: It is important to routinely review these forms to ensure that they are current, in compliance with the law, and contain the name of the local domestic abuse program. The Department of Public Safety, Crime Victim and Advisory Council, produces the crime victim's rights notice and serves as the contact for the victim's rights information.

- d. Services: The peace officer should contact Anna Maries by phone as soon as possible on all arrest situations and provide the name and address of the victim and a brief factual account of events associated with the action. This section shall not apply if prohibited by the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act (MN STAT 13.82, subd. 10).

F. LAP Procedure (Lethality Assessment Protocol)

a. Initiate Protocol

Officer will initiate LAP when the officer responds to a physical/intimate partner domestic dispute only. Officers do not need to initiate the protocol if the suspect and victim and not intimate partners or if no physical domestic has taken place. Officers will complete the necessary documentation and notify Anna Maries as soon as reasonably possible. Officer's should try and make the notification while still on scene; however the officer and victim's safety takes precedence over the notification.

G. Children

a. Child Victims

If a child is present at the scene of a domestic call or is the victim of domestic abuse, the peace officer should determine whether the child has been subjected to physical abuse, sexual abuse, or neglect, and comply with the requirements of MN STAT 626.556, Reporting of Maltreatment of a Minor. The officers shall also attempt to verify whether there has been an Order for Protection (MN STAT 260C.201). If the child has been injured, the officer should escort the child to the nearest hospital for treatment.

H. Reports and Forms

a. Written Report

Peace officers shall make a report after responding to a domestic call. If the officer did not arrest or seek an arrest warrant even though arrest was authorized, a detailed explanation of the reasons for the officer's decision not to arrest must be documented. The report should include the following:

1. detailed statements from the victim, suspect and witnesses;
2. description of injuries;
3. information about past abuse;
4. description of the scene;
5. primary aggressor;
6. existence of language barriers;
7. presence of elderly victims or those with disabilities; and
8. documentation of evidence.

I. Further Investigation

- a. A domestic call shall be turned over to the appropriate investigator for further follow-up if appropriate. If there is an arrest, the investigator shall determine the defendant's criminal record, and if there is evidence of a previous conviction, the peace officer should advise the prosecutors of any enhanced criminal sanctions which may be available.
- b. Notwithstanding the fact that the officer has decided not to arrest one of the participants in the domestic call, the peace officer shall thoroughly document all relevant information in the report and shall refer the report to the appropriate prosecutor for review and consideration of criminal charges.
